We wish to dedicate this book to all students of Astrology, especially to all of our students. There are three people we wish to give special thanks to: they are Stephanie Putnam, Barbie Sprouer, and Phyllis Wagner; without their helping in reading and typing this book, it would have been a much harder job.

TRANSIT ASPECTS

The most important thing to always keep in mind is that there are no bad or good aspects. It depends entirely on how you handle the aspect in your chart in relation to yourself and your environment, or, more simply, how you REACT. A SQUARE or an OPPOSITION may be a blessing in disguise and by the same token a SEXTILE or TRINE may be very destructive.

It may be helpful to think of aspects as difficult and easy or hard and soft aspects. When things are difficult they can make the individual stronger and better capable of handling his own life. When life is always easy a person may become weak and unable to handle the challenges of life when they do arise. Too much of a good thing can become bad or destructive.

MAJOR ASPECTS

EASY: CONJUNCTION
(depending on the planets)
TRINE
SEXTILE

DIFFICULT: CONJUNCTION
OPPOSITION

ASPECTS IN RELATION TO TRANSITS AND PROGRESSIONS

The chart is like an alarm clock. The face of the clock is like your natal chart; showing everything that will happen to you in your life time. An aspect in the NATAL chart is like the alarm being set for a certain time. Think of a PROGRESSION as the hour hand and the TRANSIT as the minute hand. The hour hand (PROGRESSION) sets up the alarm (ASPECT), but the alarm doesn't activate until the minute hand (TRANSITING PLANET) triggers it off by contacting the aspect. All three things are necessary to make the aspect work. The progression must relate to the natal aspect and be triggered by a transiting planet.

KEY WORDS for the transiting aspect "it triggers" or "activates".

KEY WORD for the PROGRESSED aspects "PROMISES".

KEY WORDS for the NATAL aspects "It gives or denies, the promises".

Your NATAL aspects indicate what will happen over the entire life span, but it does not say when or how often. I don't believe that all natal aspects are constantly in effect. They have to be activated one way or another. This is why progressed charts or progressed aspects are important. PROGRESSED aspects are not active by themselves. They have to have something to trigger or activate them. The TRANSITING planet does this very thing.

A TRANSIT aspect does not have to be connected or aspected with the progressed chart to be active (It may not be aspected or connected in any way to the PROGRESSED CHART), but may trigger any aspect in the NATAL CHART directly without involving progressed planets.

DEGREES OF ASPECTS-PROGRESSED PLANETS

Allow one (1; degree orb approaching an aspect and one (1) leaving. THIS RULE APPLYS TO THE PROGRESSED PLANETS AND ANY PLANET IN THE NATAL CHART.

TRANSIT ASPECTS

Allow the transiting planets SUN, MOON, MERCURY AND VENUS an orb of three degrees approaching and thirty (30) minutes leaving. Allow the heavies, PLUTO, NEPTUNE, URANUS, SATURN, JUPITER AND MARS six (6) degrees approaching and one degree leaving.
